Nowadays, businesses of different sizes face multiple challenges and decision makers become the point of convergence. Facing up to various challenges requires leadership potentials, but this is not enough. There is a need for practical tools everyone can rely on. In that regard, ISO standards are a well - known proven approach to help businesses to develop and deploy solutions based on good practices.

CCQM, through its global presence, provides certification services for exemplified persons by offering excellent programs with proven methodologies and internationally recognized standards, which are reputable as a means to promoting competencies in extensive practices.

We have assessed thousands of persons in a wide variety of industry sectors ranging from health, safety and environment, quality management and risk, and technology, security and continuity.

The CCQM Certified Training Courses will help you acquire the industry best practices that will help you learn how these changes could affect your organization's management systems. Our team has developed the Accepted Audit Methodology for Management Systems and Standards (AMS2) and the Integrated Implementation Methodology for Management Systems and Standards (IMS2), to highlight the professionalism in our lead training courses. These methodologies are based on best applicable practices and cover all requirements of the ISO standards and guidelines.
